Do you agree to authorize the school to review the data?

iii. Types of Candidates' Data collection: The personal data of candidates collected by the school is divided into basic information and application for special examination services.

1. Basic information: name, gender, birth date, photo, ID card number (or residence permit number or passport number), graduation school, graduation year, mailing address, contact phone number, mobile phone number, E-mail, emergency contact person, low-income or low-income households, work information, etc.

2. Apply for special examination service: In addition to the basic information above, add the health record and the applicant record required by the candidates applying for special examination service (candidates with physical and mental disabilities, candidates with sudden injuries, etc.).

iv. Processing and use of Personal Data:

1. Period of use of personal data: Except for the period of storage of personal data for examination as otherwise stipulated in the law, the period required for the completion of the above collection purposes shall be the period of use, and shall be destroyed after the expiration of the period.

2. Location of personal data use: Taiwan (including Penghu, Kinmen, Matsu, etc.) or the location authorized by the candidate for processing and use.

5. Candidates confirm that the personal information provided is true and correct; If it is untrue or needs to be changed, candidates will immediately submit the relevant supporting documents to the school for correction.

6. If the candidate does not provide true and correct personal information, it will lead to the failure to register for the test, the emergency cannot be contacted, the candidate's score cannot be delivered, etc., which will affect the candidate's rights and interests in the test, follow-up test and acceptance of test services.

7. Candidates may inquire or request to read according to the provisions of the Data Law; Request to make copies; Request additions or corrections; Request cessation of collection; To dispose of or utilize; Request deletion. Candidates may exercise the above rights by contacting the school in writing, by fax or by telephone (please refer to the registration brochure for the relevant contact information).

8. The school may provide personal data or relevant information to the relevant competent authorities or judicial authorities as required by law or by the competent authorities or judicial authorities.

9. Unless otherwise stipulated by law or required by the competent authority, the University may continue to collect, process, use or retain personal data if the applicant makes a request to the University to stop collecting, processing, using or requesting deletion of personal data, which prevents the University from performing its duties or fulfilling the purpose of collection, or causes the University to violate the law or the requirements of the competent authority.
